MONEY, BONDS AND STOCKS.

An Intensely Dull Market, Fluctuations Being of the Narrowest Description. NEW YORK, June 6 .- The new Reading loan divided the attention of the street, and resulted in an intensely dull market, with fluctuations confined to the smallest limits. Reading was second to St. Paul in activity. None of theactive list fluctuated as much as I per cent, and the only stocks of which that could be said were. Pullman and Pacific Mail, both of which were dull. First prices were steady, but London sold a small amount of stocks, and declines were established over a few stocks up to |. A rally succeded and the losses were recovered before noon, after which a most oppressive duliness settled over the market. A slight reaction occurred in the last hour, and brought several of the list a shade lower, but the close was intensely dull at about first prices. Closing figures were generally slightly higher than last evening, though Burlington & Quincy is lower. Pull-man is higher and railroad bonds were generally firm, and most of the list is slightly higher this evening. Sales. $1,120,000.

Government bonds were dull and steady. State bonds were very dull and steady. Closing quotations were: Den. & Rio G. 4s.... 784 Mobile & Ohio...... 7 Den. & R. G.W. 1sts. 71 Nashville & Chatta... 75 M. K. & T. gen. 6s. 61 Norfolk & W. pref. 46

CHICAGO, June 6 .- Wheat had a somewhat checkered course to-day, but it was on its upward way. The combination having distributed their holdings so as to put an end to much of the talk about a deal in any one future, there was a better feeling here and elsewhere. At the opening this morning all futures were just to higher than the close last night. The advices favored the "bulls." Some of the local "bulls" began buying boldly, and July and August went up together to 85 c, or about 1c better than last night. Some realizing by scalpers and tailers eased prices a point or two, and later it was dis-covered that the figures from Missouri, showing a decrease of condition for the month from 77 to 64c, were not official, and on this July went back to 85% 2864c, and August to 85 c. December had sold up to 87c early, and eased off to 862a. Twenty minutes before the close of the regular session the news of favorable exports caused a rally, and July again sold at 85jc, closing at 85jc. When it was discovered that the estimate of 600 cars of corn for to-day was beaten by the actual receipts of 762 cars, of course prices opened lower. The principal trading was in July and August. July started at 54je, † wie under the close, sold down to 54je, then up to 54j @54je, last night's price, and closed at 54je. There was a firmer feeling in the oats market. Late in the day the market became very quiet, and July sold at 33 23 23 25. Fairly active speculative trading was reported in hog products early to-day, and prices ruled a shade higher. In mess pork opening sales were made at a 50 advance, and a further slight improvement was gained temperarily. Later an easier feeling prevailed, prices receded 7; 210c and the market closed quiet. Sales of July were made at $14.17; 214 20, closing at the first figure. In lard much interest was manifested, and trading was quite active. The opening price of July was 8.77 c, it declined to 8.70c, advanced to 8.72jc, where it closed. Short ribs. prices were feeling prevailed later, and prices declined again to inside figures and slosed quiet. July sold at 7.70 $7.75c, and closed steady at 7.70c. The

INDIANAPOLIS MARKETS.

Trade Fairly Active, with a Steady Tone to Prices on Most Articles.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 6. In most departments, to-day, a good deal of activity was noticeable, and, in the main, prices were steady. Reports from the East showed an upward tendency in sugars on a large increase in demand. Coffees were, as well, in a stronger position, but unchanged in this market. Dry goods men were quite buey, largely in the way of supplying customers with goods to replenish broken stocks. The bide men report no improvement in that market. In the produce circles there is a good deal of activity. Early vegatables more plenty, and weak at quotations on most descriptions. Old potatoes are still meeting with fair sale, and new potatoes are in good supply. Butter is very plenty, and prices weak. The importance of making a good article is never more apparent than when the article is plenty. Good butter can be disposed of at a fair price. The requisites for first-class butter-making are good cream and acquired skill. With one and not the other it will be impossible to accomplish the desired effect. Cleanliness is a very important factor. This is perhaps the cheapest requisite in fine butter-making, but must be strictly adhered to, for with pure cream and skilled labor, and unclean, sour and dirty utensils for making butter in, or holding cream, the other good effects must suffer materially in the final results. How easily these foreign flavors are detected by expert butter-buyers none know better than sellers of dairy products who have to contend with the many complaints and rebuffs buyers offer. Many thousands of dollars could have been saved to the dairy men and creamery men had more cleanliness and care been exercised. The provision market is bardly as firm as last week. There is considerable doing in a jobbing way. Holders of hog products show no great desire to sell, so confident are they that later on hog products will be higher. Strawberries are in good supply, the near-home producers largely supplying the market. New apples, red and black raspberries come in slow, and prices are nominal. A few days later larger arrivals and more reasonable prices are looked for. The other markets present no new features.

It was another off day in the local market. If anybody wanted to buy freely of either of the cereals he did not make it known. Receipts are light. Bids on track to-day ruled as follows:
